

WHO IS BEHIND YOUR ERP SOLUTION?

3925 W Braker Lane Austin, TX

In this issue:

- ERP
- How to select your ERP provider
- What SAPI can do for you

ERP is the perfect solution to integrate departments in a company while increasing productivity and maximizing efficiency. Choosing the right vendor is as important as selecting the right ERP system. Many companies looking to automate their processes search for the best ERP system without knowing the supplier and who is behind it.

How to select your ERP provider

The ERP provider must build the system to fit your needs and not adapt one of their systems and sell it as the solution for your company's problems. You need to make sure the vendor is reliable, has experience in the subject, and has worked with other companies. You also need to demand the personalized customer service before, during, and after implementation and the proper training for the end users. ERP vendor service continuity and software consistency go hand in hand. It is important to build a solution with the ERP vendor as you are the expert in the subject. The vendor must be guided and might provide ideas to get the most from the system. The vendor should be willing to hear your point of view, and be open to suggestions as you might give certain observations regarding the implementation process.

What SAPI can do for you

Sapi will customize the ERP software needed for your company. This will allow you to respond quickly to changes in the market and your business. Sapi will work with you to build the perfect solution to your needs and help you achieve your goals. With Sapi, you will secure your investment, considering that your system will be able to handle your actual and future needs. We will be committed to building the best system for your company, and provide you with the personalized customer service your company deserves.

... Take Control!

3925 W Braker Lane Austin, TX 78759 USA

T: 512.213.0115 F: 512.213.0117

www.sapiusa.com